

Argentine Collective MONDONGO Art Opening Tonight, And Many More

It happens around this time every year– dozens of art galleries ring in the fall season by effectively creating massive art-walks (read: booze and crazy people), and tonight has a lengthy list of choices.

One good one is DUMBO's Bose Pacia gallery, hosting an opening reception for its exhibit Material Witness, featuring LA artist Bari Kumar and Buenos Aires collective MONDONGO (whose mixed-media works incorporate all different kinds of materials into large-scale pieces with multiple layers and various historical contexts).
